Section I: Big Ideas

Using the prompt below, write a thesis statement. Remember, a thesis statement includes an arguable point and three supporting points. You are permitted to research the topic; however, any attempt to use a readily available thesis statement or to pass off another person's writing as your own will result in an automatic 0 for the exam and a referral to the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. This could result in an F for the course.

PROMPT:
Cancel culture: "the practice of withdrawing support for (canceling) public figures and companies after they have done or said something considered objectionable or offensive." From canceling TV shows and boycotting companies, to removing monuments and changing the names of streets, parks, etc., there is little doubt cancel culture dominates modern society. Examine the practice of cancel culture, particularly in the last 10 years. Then, develop a position on the effectiveness of cancel culture. Use that position to complete the steps that follow.

Your ORIGINAL Thesis Statement: 21 points

Now, using your Thesis Statement above, reverse engineer three (3) topic sentences in the spaces below. Remember, your topic sentences should match the content AND the order of your Thesis Statement.

Section II: Evidence

Based on your Thesis Statement and Topic Sentences above, find and embed ONE piece of evidence to support EACH main idea. For each piece of evidence, you are to connect the source material to your own sentence, format it appropriately, and include a correct parenthetical/in-text citation. Please use 3 different sources. Be sure to select credible sources. You have adequate resources to help you with this task.

REQUEST: Please copy and paste the Topic Sentences into the spaces below. Then, add your source material and parentheticals.
