Name___[redacted]____

Oral Communications
Adaptation Plan - Examples on pages 90, 229 & 249

Topic:

Dogs are the best pets.

1. Key aspects of audience

Everyone either has a dog or has seen a dog and knows how loving they are. Some might think they aren't the best pets to have though.

2. Establishing and maintaining common ground

I will establish common ground by stating a fact about how many people own a dog as a pet and out of those people how many of them think dogs are the best pets to have. I will maintain common ground by referring back to why dogs are the best pets.

3. Building and maintaining interest

I will build interest by comparing the different kinds of pets to dogs. I will maintain interest by showing pictures on my powerpoint of the different pets.

4. Audience knowledge and sophistication

The audience's knowledge will be good since dogs are one of the most common pets so many people will know about them. I will obtain sophistication by stating facts about how dogs are the best pets.

5. Building credibility

I will build my credibility by talking about how many pets I have and how dogs are just better overall in the introduction. I will also state facts about what other people/websites have said.

6. Audience attitudes

_____

Name___[redacted]____

The audience's attitudes are most likely to be interested. I have talked to my classmates about it asking them which pet is their favorite and almost all have said dogs.

7. How can I make it easier for audience members to comprehend and remember the information I share?

I will make it easier for audiences to comprehend the information because I am going to make it relatable to my audience. I am going to make it easier to remember by showing images on my powerpoint so they have something to go along with while I am talking.