Food and Drink: Food and drinks, including water are not allowed in the classroom at any time.

Program Outcomes: The knowledge and critical thinking skills acquired in the general education component enable students to analyze problems, to arrive at intelligent conclusions, and to make reasoned choices in their professional and personal lives. Many general education courses are designed to deal primarily with processes rather than simply with facts, to help students to develop individually and as members of a group and to instill in students the desire to develop intellectual and emotional skills through lifelong learning.
The general education curriculum provides the means by which students will accomplish the following outcomes:

Students will increase their

- writing, reading, speaking, and listening skills,

- understanding of different cultures and societies across the globe and how both have changed over time,
- technological and research skills.

ACTS Expected Student Learning Outcomes:
The student will demonstrate an advanced application of outcomes expected in ENGL1023.

- Respond appropriately to various rhetorical situations, purposes, and audiences.
- Use writing and reading for inquiry, learning, thinking, and communicating.
- Integrate original ideas with those of others
- Develop flexible strategies for generating, revising, editing, and proof-reading
- Use collaborative writing processes
- Demonstrate knowledge of structure, paragraphing, tone, mechanics, syntax, grammar, and documentation

Rationale: An objective of post-secondary education is to provide a core of knowledge that is shared with most educated people. By studying and developing a deeper understanding of the diverse writings that have influenced modern attitudes, institutions, and thought, students can better comprehend the world they live in today. In addition, they will be better able to communicate with other people with whom they come in contact

Course Objectives, Outcomes, and Descriptions: Upon successful completion of Composition II, the students should be able to do the following:

Course Outcomes:

Students will be able to

1. Read and analyze a selection of literature using critical thinking skills.

Course Conduct: The student is to read, study, and discuss the course selections. Papers will relate to the readings throughout the semester and are due by the posted date.

This hybrid course is half online and half in class. Students must attend the in-class sessions each week and complete online assignments in Blackboard as assigned.

Students may not use personal communication devices or outside websites during a class, quiz, or exam.

Recording a class or reposting, copying, or distributing any course materials (notes, PowerPoints, quizzes, homework, etc.) is expressly forbidden unless the instructor has given written permission.

Credit Hour Calculator: For every course credit hour, the typical student should expect to spend at least three clock hours per week of concentrated attention on course-related work, including but not limited to time attending class, as well as out-of-class time spent reading, reviewing, organizing notes, preparing for upcoming quizzes/ exams, problem solving, developing and completing projects, and other activities that enhance learning. Thus, for a three-hour course, a typical student should expect to spend at least nine hours per week dedicated to the course.

Credit Hour Definition: A credit hour is an amount of work represented in intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement that is an institutionally established equivalency that reasonably approximates not less than one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work each week for approximately fifteen weeks.

Course Requirements/Evaluations:

Cumulative grades are reflected by the following:

- Essays
- Activities/Prewritings
- Quizzes
- Final Exam

Essays: Students will write four assigned essays (five-paragraphs) dealing with various assigned topics related to a reading assignment. Students must submit typed papers using MLA format. The files must be in Word, or a Word compatible format, to be accepted for grading and submitted into Blackboard. If using Google Docs, the student is responsible for converting the file to a Word document and correcting any formatting errors before submitting in Blackboard. Late writing assignments, for whatever reason, will receive a late penalty of 10% off the total points possible. The late window closes at the start of the next scheduled class. For example, if a class meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 11:00 am, missed work on Tuesday must be submitted BEFORE 11:00 am on Thursday. After the late window closes, the grade will automatically become a zero unless prior arrangements have been made with the instructor for a very serious reason only and with the proper documentation.

Activities/Prewritings: Students will participate in in-class assignments. Attendance is necessary to receive credit for these assignments. Students are expected to keep up with any assigned readings and be prepared to apply the readings in class. Prewritings CANNOT be submitted late.

Quizzes: Quizzes will be given in Blackboard. If a student is absent when a test is given, then the student will receive a zero for that assignment unless the student has filed paperwork with the VP of Academic Affairs for a very serious, unexpected reason only (death in the family, hospital emergency, etc.). At that point, the student may take a make-up test. These make-up tests are in the form of a written, essay exam. All make-up tests must be taken within a week of the original test date. After one week, the grade will automatically be a zero unless arrangements have been made with the instructor for a very serious reason only. It is the student's responsibility to initiate make-up work or work ahead when a scheduled absence is expected (doctor appointment, dentist appointment, etc.). Typically, missing a test results in an automatic zero for that assignment, and the test cannot be reopened. Technology or lack of technology is not a valid excuse for not completing a test.

If a student leaves early or is inexcusably absent or late to class, the quiz cannot be made up. Quizzes and tests must be taken in a proctored environment. If not using a UA Rich Mountain location, preapproval and proper documentation are required. Any quiz or test opened outside of a proctored environment will automatically receive a zero and cannot be retaken. Pop quizzes may be given at any time and cannot be made up if missed.

The grading scale for this course is as follows:

A = 90-100%
B = 80-89%
C = 70-79%
D = 60-69%
F = Below 60%

Procedures/Student Requirements: Regular attendance, punctuality, and participation are expected. Students who miss a class are expected to return with all readings completed and be prepared to make up any missed quizzes. Keep up with missed assignments in Blackboard. Students are expected to log into Blackboard at least twice a week and check emails at least 3-4 times a week. Keeping up with emails will be vital for each student's success in this course. Students who do not complete the first and/or second week of class will be removed from the course. All assignments must be submitted by the posted due date unless specific arrangements have been made with the instructor. Attendance is taken each day and reported to the Vice President for Student Affairs. It is the student's responsibility to initiate those arrangements immediately.

Missing an excessive number of classes is detrimental to the success of students in this course causing them to fall behind. Three absences in a class that meets two times a week is excessive.

Students who do not attend class may receive a grade of NF which can negatively affect financial aid.

Academic Dishonesty: Cheating or plagiarizing on a test or assignment is not tolerated.
Some types of plagiarism (not a complete list):

- Submitting someone else's work as your own (includes paraphrasing)
- Sharing assignments/answers with other students (both receive a zero)
- Skimming information off the internet without correctly citing sources

Consequences of plagiarism:

- 1st offense of plagiarism:
    - Less than 10% of an assignment plagiarized → proportional grade deduction on assignment
    - 10% or more of an assignment plagiarized → automatic zero on the assignment
- 2nd offense of plagiarism → removal from the course with a W

Consult College Handbook for more information. If you ever have any questions about plagiarism or how to document a source, please ask me. I want you to avoid plagiarism, too.
