Hello parents, and welcome to young pre-k! I am your child's teacher, , otherwise known as Miss Amy.

A few get-to-know-me facts are that I have lived in Arkansas my whole life and am currently attending school. I am studying to become an elementary teacher, but as of right now, I am a certified paraprofessional. I have always wanted to work with children, and it is such a blessing to get to be a part of your child's education!

We will be doing many fun and educational activities this year, such as learning our ABCs, playing with some pretty cool toys, and learning about the world around us. Please bring a water bottle for your child, along with a blanket and an extra set of clothes (T-Shirt, Pants, Underwear, Socks, etc.). All these items will be kept inside their cubbies in the hallway, minus the water bottle, which will be kept in the classroom.

My contact hours are between 7:15 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to email me at huffmaster.amy@waldronsd.org, and I will get back to you within those hours.

I look forward to having your child in my classroom this school year and cannot wait to see what they accomplish with their lives going forward!

Sincerely,

Local SRO Guest Speaks at the Scott County Boys and Girls Club

On June 23, 2022, Officer Miller visited with the kids at the Boys and Girls Club

by Amy Huffmaster on June 27, 2022

On June 23, 2022, the Waldron Public Schools resource officer, David Miller, the guest, spoke at the Scott County Boys and Girls Club. While he was there, he talked to the local children about safety when outside, what a police officer does, what a school resource officer is, why schools have school resource officers, along with many other subjects regarding police officers and how to be safe in your everyday life.

"The kids seemed to enjoy having Officer Miller come and talk to them, especially since many of them knew who he was. They were very interested in what he had to say, and he was very good with the club's kids. He is a wonderful police officer and does a lot for our schools, and we cannot thank him enough for his time here at the boys and girls club." Said Hunter Lovett, the Scott County Boys and Girls Club director.

Officer Miller said he enjoyed talking and working with the kids at the boys and girls club. He is glad to know that they are more knowledgeable about everyday safety and different ways to protect themselves.

KBC: Lesson Plan

rriculum Area (5 points):	First Grade English Language Arts
ndard (5 points):	RF. 1.3.F Decode two-syllable words following basic patterns by breaking the words into syllables • compound words (e.g., cup/cake, cow/boy) • consonant-le (e.g., can/dle, sim/ple, ri/fle, nee/dle) • VC/CV (e.g., nap/kin, hap/py, start/pede) • V/CV (e.g., ho/mes)
sson Title (5 points):	Decoding two syllable words
ade (5 points):	First Grade
earning Objective(s) points):	I can decode two syllable words.
tionale or Reasoning points):	It can help the students understand why words have different sounds in one single word.
uipment and/or Materials eded (10 points):	Computer, worksheet with words to split up, whiteboard, expo marker, pencils, and projector.
rerequisite Skills (Formative sessment) (10 points):	Know how to decode one syllable words.
rms (10 points):	Syllable=a unit of pronunciation having one vowel sound, with or without surrounding consonants, forming the whole or a part of a word

Instructions (Procedures and Activities) (10 points):	Start lesson off by reviewing one syllable words, then explaining how two syllable words work. We will use the projector to show how two syllable words are split up by moving the parts of the word around, and we will practice with clapping the syllables in the words. Once we have covered this, I will have kids write on their whiteboards a certain word and see if they can find where the second syllable starts as a class activity. After a few times of doing this, we will start on a worksheet with the same concept where the kids will have to find where the syllables of a word are and mark it, this will be individual work. After they have completed this worksheet, they will get on abc ya and play a game called Fuzz Bugs Farm - Consonant Blends where they will have to put two words together to break down the syllables.
Questions (Assessment during and after lesson using Bloom's Taxonomy) (10 points):	Who can remember how we count one syllable words? Can you locate where the second syllable starts? Can you construct different words to show where the second syllable starts? What is the difference between one syllable and two syllable words?
Evaluation, Assessment, or Assignment (10 points):	Worksheet where they will have to show where the syllables of a word are.
Technology (Zoom, Google Slides, and additional technology such as YouTube videos)(10 points):	Abc ya for the kids to play a syllable game on, they will get to use their computers to play this game.
Notes:	N/A

Homework for Decoding Two Syllable Words

Syllables! Homework for Decoding Two Syllable Words

Syllables are the parts of words and breaking down the smaller parts of words can help you read and write longer, trickier words. Let's take a look at what a syllable is and how we can find syllables in words with this video!

Step 1: Find your vowels.

1 consonant between your vowels.

Step 1: Find your vowels.

Step 2: Split your vowels apart to show each syllable with a vowel.

1st syllable 2nd syllable

Step 3: Count the consonants between your vowels. In this word there is one consonant.

Step 4: Find a home (syllable side) for your middle consonant(s). First, you want to try to move it to the right.

1st syllable 2nd syllable

Step 5: Read your word. In this case, the first syllable is an open syllable because it ends in the vowel. The vowel can say its name, so it says ba (pronounced bay.) The 2nd syllable is sic, with the i being short because the c closes in that vowel.

Step 6: If the word sounds correct, you are done. If not, try moving the consonant s to the left. SEE NEXT SLIDE FOR HOW TO DO IT.
